THE RAISIN INDUSTRY

A Grand Rapids Man Tells of Some of the Things he Saw in the West.

Stovey Norton stopped us on Monday and asked us if we had noticed the manner in which the Reporter had maligned us in regard to being appointed by him to a city office in case he was elected to the office of mayor. We told him that we had noticed the item and asked his advice in the matter. He assured us that he had no intention of appointing us to office and that the Reporter had grounds whatever for the assertion, as he had never made any statement, whatever as to whom he intended to appoint in case he is elected. He further stated that there were some of the republicans who were now inclined to crawlfish in the matter, and that while they encouraged him some time ago, in fact were the first to bring him out as a possible candidate before the people that now they were trying to turn him down. But he assured us that it would have to be somebody that got around to work before 8:30 in the morning if he wanted to fool Stovey. Stand by your party ticket, boys. This split in the party has gone far enough and should be discouraged whenever encountered.

Elopements in the Catholic church will be an impossibility after Easter Sunday. The new regulations come from Rome. Such a marriage might not be declared invalid but it would be clandestine and illicit unless a special dispensation were procured. The celebrants would be deprived of the benefits of the church. "The new regulations make elopements impossible," said the Rev. Father Traudt, secretary to Archbishop Messmer. "It will do away with many ill considered marriages. And it will place an additional obstacle in the way of the marriage of Catholics with non-Catholics."

At the morning service in the Congregational church next Sunday, the pastor will preach on the subject: "A Common Sense Religion for Common Sense Men." Bible school at the close of the morning service. Young people's meeting at 8:30. The next "Popular Evening Service" will be held in the opera house on Sunday March 1st.

LaGross has a hen with a human face, a most remarkable freak of nature. We have often heard of human beings that resembled old hens, however.

(seedless) is that the light colored raisin is bleached to that color by sulphur fumes. This is to make the fruit attractive and pleasing to the eye. P. MacKinnon.

Not Looking for Politics.

A meeting was held at the G. A. B. hall on Monday evening, at which there were a number of our citizens who had assembled in response to an anonymous call, which was made presumably for the purpose of discussing the matter of nominating officers for the coming city election. The majority of our citizens want a good city government but from the sentiment expressed at the meeting they do not care to hand the government of the city over to any political party. There is many a good man who would be glad to hold a public office for the term of two years provided he were put there by the whole people, who would not enter a political campaign at all and undergo the abuse that is incident to such meetings.

The raisin is a muscatel grape. The vines are plucked about six feet apart and are cut back every fall. When cut back the vine looks like a short stubby stump about two feet high. The feature of the muscatel vine is that it only requires to be renewed every 200 years or so. In the fall of the year, about September 1st, the gathering of the grapes commence.

The bunches of grapes are cut from the vines and laid on wood trays in the sun to dry. They remain on these trays two weeks and are then turned over so that the other side of the bunch is dried. It is here that the danger to health begins. For instance, let a basket of grapes be laid out on an open orchard for four weeks, when the wind blows (and it is very, very dry in the fall); the dirt from the road blows over the fruit, the insects alight on the bunches, birds hover over the trays, microbes and bacilli are absorbed by the fruit.

When the grapes are dried they are gathered up by men who go thru the orchards with a fruit wagon. The raisins, without any further curing or cleaning, are packed in boxes and shipped, no other process being thought necessary. That is the old way of curing raisins and putting them on the market, but now, the art and luxury of man have come to the rescue. Since the invention of the raisin seeder, the raisins are taken to the seeder factory and the raisin pits or stones are taken out. How it is done, I will tell you.

First the raisins, as they come in on the wooden trays, are emptied into a machine which takes off the stalks; passing on to another machine, the small stem (about 14 inches long) is taken off. The raisins are now passed onto wire screens (about 4 feet wide). These screens are enclosed in tight wooden steam boxes. The raisins pass thru this steam chest slowly, being steamed eight minutes, then they are passed into the seeder machines. The machines seem to be a combination of rubber rolls and small blunt circular saws, one pressing against the other, and the saw scratches a small hole in the end of the raisin and the rubber rolls press out the stone.

The stones fall into a trough on one side of the machine, the seeded raisins on the other side. At the time the raisin seed is pressed out the skin is scraped and cleaned. This can only be done by steaming the fruit. The raisins coming from the seeding machines fall on to a table on the floor below and are weighed into one-pound paper boxes. It will seem that seeded raisin is more wholesome, more cleanly, more appetizing, and in every way a perfect dried fruit. In the kitchen no labor is required to seed it or to pick the fruit from the stem. It is always ready. Therefore, always buy seeded raisins.

As to the seeds or stones, these are conveyed to a by-product factory. First the seeds are boiled; the water is then distilled; from the first distillate, brandy is obtained, the distillation is continued until all the alcohol is obtained. After the alcohol is all distilled out, the stones are put thru the roller which crushes the seeds, an oil is extracted, then the refuse is macerated in hot water and cream of tartar extracted. Afterwards the remaining pulpy mass is dried and fed to hogs, cattle, etc. I purchased some one-pound packages of seeded raisins in Fresno, retail, for which I paid ten cents per pound. I purchased a one-pound package of seeded raisins in Grand Rapids for which I paid seventeen cents per pound, the same quality and same grade in both.

Fresno County produces nearly all the raisins grown in California. The output of the factory I visited was 120 tons per day. There are six factories in the city, and they run about three months of the year. Raisins, plums, olive oil, oranges, grape fruits, apples, figs, wine, chambagnes, nuts, table grapes, dried peaches, apricots, and pears are grown or produced in Fresno County in great abundance, and if our merchants could be induced to club together and import a carload of these fruits, say next fall, what a lot of money could be saved to the merchant, and also to the consumer. The fruit would be fresh from the tree, and the jobbers profits would be cut out. The freight rate would be about one and a half cents per pound.

There are three kinds of raisins sold in grocery stores: the dark colored raisin on the stem, with seeds; the light colored seedless raisin, and the seeded raisin in one pound boxes. The only difference between the dark colored raisin on the stem and the light colored raisin

THEY WERE SILENT.

Aldermen Decline to Express Themselves on the Matter of Paper Mill Taxes.

The city council met in adjourned session on Tuesday evening to take up several matters that had been laid over from the regular session of the week before. One of the principal matters was that of remitting the sewer tax that had been charged up against the Centralia Pulp & Water Power company of the south side. In this matter Attorney B. R. Goggins appeared for the paper mill people and gave an argument of some length in which all of the facts were laid before the council. The paper mill people claim that the sewer tax was built for the Rolland Packing company was in the nature of a bonus given to a new concern, and that the entire cost of the sewer should be borne by the city at large and should not be charged up in part to the sewer district as was done.

There are a few in the city who are apparently trying to force the matter to a political issue, but it is evident that they are not cutting much of a swath with the business men of the city and it is not at all probable that they will accomplish anything.

Death of Mrs. Weisehorn.

Mrs. Alice Weisehorn died on Monday at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. M. Allerton, where she had been suffering from an attack of pneumonia. She had been sick only a few days and her many friends were greatly shocked to hear the news of her death on Tuesday morning.

Death of Mr. Goggins.

County Clerk Davison issued the following marriage licenses during the past week:

Wm. S. Hall and Winifred Benedict, both of Marshfield.

Edward Inzalton of Milladore and Mary Golian of Sigel.

Albert Haunschild and Mary Gable, both of Pittsville.

Michael Grasst and Barbara Schuhbauer, both of Auburndale.

Peter LeMahon and Julia Donhard, both of Marshfield.

Death of Mrs. Treutl.

Mrs. Hettie Anna Treutl, one of the well known residents of Vesper, died at her home there on Sunday after an illness of considerable length. The deceased was 63 years of age and is survived by seven children, all of whom are grown men. Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday by Rev. Maack of this city, after which the remains were shipped to Waushara county for burial.

Some people maintain that a man is braver than a woman, but you will have to show me. They may be much as one of the gentler sex. We never saw this more aptly illustrated than on Tuesday afternoon while standing in the courthouse lobby getting the latest weather report from Ed Matchey. There was a young fellow came to the door, and with him was a pretty little girl, a girl that any young fellow ought to be proud of. The fellow is employed in a place of business not over a thousand miles from the Tribune office, and he is generally supposed to be a pretty square young fellow, but on this occasion he looked as if he had been caught stealing sheep. The young lady was calm and collected, that is, tolerably calm and collected. Of course it is trifling disconcerting when you get your best girl, and he on the court house for a marriage license, and have it all figured out how you will kind of oozes in without attracting any attention and then the county judge, the clerk of court, county treasurer, the janitor and a newspaper man standing at the head of the stairs watching the proceedings approach and reading your innermost thoughts. The young man tried to speak by without anybody seeing him, but the young lady elevated her chin and said along as if she had just bought the courthouse and might condescend to stop there awhile if things suited her. The young couple instituted a search for the county clerk's office, and at last located it, when there was a secret conclave lasting about fifteen minutes when the couple came out apparently as if one of the greatest trials of their life had been surmounted. When the county clerk was questioned later he said that the young man had come in to take out a deed on a piece of property that he had been paying the taxes on for some time past, but that he did not want anything said about it for a few days. In accordance with their wishes we won't say anything about it. And that is why we think a woman is braver than a man.

Cut His Hand.

George Komot, who is employed in the Oberbock furniture factory, had one of his hands quite badly injured on Saturday. He was engaged in working about a circular saw when his hand came in contact with the implement and he sustained a severe cut. It was thought at first that one of his fingers would have to be amputated, but later it was thought that it could be saved.

Notice.

All persons having open accounts with the late Dr. O. J. Poelmanville are requested to call at the office and settle same. Office will be open from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Dr. W. L. Ridgman has been confined to his home since Sunday with an attack of pneumonia.

Gotch the Winner.

Frank Gotch won the match from Fred Beull in Chicago on Friday evening, and according to all accounts it was a good match. The following is from the Chicago Record Herald on the subject:

Champion Frank Gotch easily took the first fall from Fred Beull in the championship wrestling match at the Casino last night, the Wisconsin wonder yielding to a bar lock in fifty-four minutes and three seconds. The bout was barely contested, but the superior strength and skill of the champion proved too great for the craft of the smaller man.

Gotch took the second fall and match with a bar lock in twenty minutes. Beull giving away before the terrific pressure brought to bear by the Iowa giant.

The two bouts were the hardest seen here for many a day. A packed house punctuated the struggle with frequent applause, the most of it going to the "under dog." The disparity in size was so great that few expected Beull to last more than ten or fifteen minutes. However, Beull more than made up to speed what he lacked in size. He seemed to have everything in the calendar of wrestling and for a few moments at first Gotch looked worried.

Trying to Beat Our Climate.

O. C. Jacobson, who formerly made his home in this city but is now cashier of the bank at Baudette, North Dakota, has the following to say concerning North Dakota weather:

"We are having ideal weather in Dakota this winter, heating California all hollow as a winter resort. Just the other day one of our neighboring towns had an open air band concert, members of the band coming out with straw hats and linen dusters, so if any of you folks are contemplating a trip to California to spend the winter I would advise trying our climate instead."

If we were to tell Mr. Jacobson all the nice things there are to tell about our climate he would be sorry that he went to North Dakota, but we can assure him that we have been having a grand deal with warm and sunny weather during the past winter and that the fame of Wisconsin as a winter resort is rapidly spreading throughout the country.

Delegates Elected.

At the democratic county convention held at Grand Rapids, Feb. 10th the following were elected delegates to the state convention:

Edward Lynch, D. B. Conway, William H. Bacock, Jr., M. Nardi, Grand Rapids, Wis.; H. A. Ladrop, John Haferman, Marshfield; Henry E. Flitch, Richard Schubert, Nekoosa; James K. P. Ille, Dexterville; Lawrence Ward, Babcock.

Resolutions were adopted instructing delegats to vote for H. H. Munson, Duluth, Minn., for delegate at large to the National Convention.

Masquerade Ball.

John Penney will hold a masquerade ball at his hall at Bismarck on Thursday, February 13. Two and one-half dollars will be given, one for the best dressed couple and one for the most comic couple. Ladies masked, 25 cents. Unmasked, 10 cents. Dance tickets 10 cents. Music by the Blue orchestra and supper will be served.

Notice.

There will be a social meeting of St. Katherine's Guild on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 13, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Kellner. All members are requested to be present and each may bring one guest.

Announcement.

H. G. Hamblight, cashier of the First National Bank at Marshfield, died on Saturday evening from consumption.

GIRL AND EMPLOYERS BURNED.

PRIEST ASKS BETTER POLICE.

Father Goebel Makes Formal Demand on Mayor of Janesville.

Grand Rapids.—Miss Martha Grossman, 19 years of age, a domestic at the home of Dr. Charles Pomadavie, a well-known physician, was fatally burned, the doctor himself was so severely burned that he was in a critical condition, and his wife was severely burned as the result of the action of the domestic in pouring gasoline into the kitchen stove to make the fire burn better. Miss Grossman arose at six o'clock to get breakfast. She started a fire in the kitchen stove and, finding that it did not burn well, took a can of gasoline and started to pour the deadly liquid on the fire. With a roar the gasoline exploded, the bottom of the can being blown off. The escaping liquid was thrown upon the girl's clothes, saturating them so that the flames immediately caught them and burned fiercely.

FOUR DAYS TO DEDICATE.

New $90,000 Y. M. C. A. Building at Wausau Formally Opened.

Wausau.—The dedication of Wausau's new $90,000 Y. M. C. A. building occurs Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, February 13, 14, 15 and 16. Over 100 visitors were expected to be present. All the state secretaries were invited, also members of the international committee, and others prominent in Y. M. C. A. circles from abroad. These guests were entertained at the new building and in the homes of Wausau. A special Y. M. C. A. concert was prepared. There were pictures of the exteriors, of the old and new buildings, views of the rooms in the new building, history of the association and other valuable information.

Fix Rates Lower.

Madison.—The engineers in the employ of the state railroad commission have reported that they had fixed the present value of the property of the Madison Gas and Electric company at $523,384, which is $53,771 less than that fixed by the experts of the company. It is understood that the company has a large sum in a going concern, which will make up some of the differences between the two valuations reached by the state's and the company's experts.

Recovers Stolen Watches.

La Crosse.—Four of the gold watches stolen from the West Saloon store by Gorman T. Gorman and disposed of by him have been recovered, charged with purchasing the stolen property. John Kerrigan, Frank Shoum and Paul Nero were arraigned in county court. Kerrigan and Shoum pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $15 and $10 and costs respectively. Nero pleaded not guilty.

Admits Story Was False.

Appleton.—Charles Kraut, who is serving four months at the workhouse for malicious destruction of property and who confessed to a brutal murder in the vicinity of Tomahawk, now declares that he made the confession in the hope of being sentenced for life to state prison. He says that unless he is sentenced he will kill some one in order to accomplish his desire.

To Lay Out Route.

Janesville.—H. H. Ziegler, who represents an Ohio syndicate of interurban road promoters, was in the city with his consulting engineer to inspect the possible route between this city and Madison. Mr. Ziegler states that his syndicates expect to build the road during the coming summer.

Files a Complaint.

Oshkosh.—The Winnebago Tractor company of this city, through R. H. Hackert, receiver, has filed complaint against the Eastern Electric Light and Power company of Fond du Lac, in a suit in which it is sought to recover $158,558 damages for alleged breach of contract.

To Give Concerts.

La Crosse.—Arrangements are being made by the local amateur association to give a series of concerts by the mixed and general chorus which will take part in the coming festival next July. In order to raise money to help defray the expenses of the fest.

Install New Courses.

Madison.—New four-year courses in chemistry to teach analytical, industrial, agricultural and soil, sanitary and food, and physiognomist chemists have just been arranged by the faculty of the University of Wisconsin.

Sue La Crosse Read.

La Crosse.—The parents of Carl Mithibauer, who died after lying unconscious one week, as the result of being struck by a street car, have brought suit against the La Crosse City Railway company for $5,000 damages.

Falls from Height.

Janesville.—Oscar H. Nelson, a member of the Northwestern bridge crew, fell from a strainer on the bridge where he was working into 20 feet of water, and was rescued with difficulty by fellow workers.

Mary of Mauston Dies.

Mauston.—Mary Fred Ely died of heart trouble. She is survived by a wife and two children. Mr. Ely was a Democrat of Juneau county and under the second Cleveland administration was postmaster.

Appointed Librarian.

Menomonie.—Grace Darling of Mauston has been appointed Librarian of the Stout schools. Miss Darling is making plans for the extensive development and classification of the Stout school library.

Eats Sock; Dies.

Eau Claire.—A peculiar accident befell John Schultz' exit in the town of Lincoln. Joseph Brandy was sleeping in a stall when the calf ate one of his socks. The calf died in great agony.

Owns Graded Cows.

Fond du Lac.—Thomas Fox, of Friendship, is the owner of a herd of 19 graded Holsteins whose milk for last year brought $1,525.00, an average of $80.26. Six of the number are here.

Valentine

When winter's at his coldest
And coldest.
And coldest,
Then cometh good St. Valentine,
To show that love is burning
And warm and yearning,
And breathe upon the wintry earth his tenderness divine.

A FRIEND OF THE LITTLE ONES

WONDERFUL DAY

over the preceding week and the day that comes after. For days and days the Small Person steals into the house with unnatural, unhealthy and suspicious quiet, holding queer shaped bulging packages under her coat or snuggled away in the innermost corners of her absurd little muff. The paste not appears everywhere in the house. The paste brush disappears entirely and is finally found in a state of suicide and the ink-bottle. You see something on the floor that looks like a cherry. You pick it up and it is a red paper heart. While you are looking at it the Small Person trots into the room, gives you one mysterious glance, immediately separates you from your treasure and scampers away to a hiding place under the dining-room table, where she sits for three straight hours in a bilowy pool of white paper lace, big white envelopes and numberless samples of scissars.

Then, after these charming hours of mysterious preparation, the great day approaches. The small man in the Kris Kringle, the Santa Claus, the good fairy, with beaded shoulders he plods down the street, while the Small Person has her nose glued so tightly to the window pane that there is considerable question whether or not it will detach itself without the aid of a paper knife.

At last! Hooray! The bell rings. At imminent risk of catching everything from a cold to a spanking the Small Person dashes out of the front door and fairly leaps into the mail bag.

She emerges looking like a young stationery establishment, nothing but envelopes, big, little and middle sized.

With a squeal and a saucy smile blows back into the house and opens up her treasures. There are paper trees filled with brilliant paper roses, and beneath the forest trees sit little cupids "without no clo's on at all," just as if it were not February and chilly. Great big, beautiful white swan ears—more beautiful even than a new automobile—are dragged out of their white casings, and lo! when you touch a little spring somewhere the swan ears are filled with flowers and all sorts of wonderful, exquisite, beautiful things, like birds and jewels and loving hearts. Oh, it is very, very delightful, being a child on St. Valentine's day.

While all this excitement is beating the quiet home atmosphere into quietness you sit down in a far-away corner and think of the time when you were a little girl. Perhaps you didn't have as much attention as the Small Person; perhaps things didn't seem how come your way—and perhaps it's because you had so little that you are ready to make any sacrifice so that the Small Person shall have you. It is from deprivations that you learn what good things mean and how much they mean.

Somehow your mind goes way back, so far you wouldn't dare tell the years. You wouldn't even guess them. It seems so long ago that it must have been another world, or anyway another life. You see a dingy old schoolroom, where the benches were frightfully hard and where the clock was so lazy it never moved its hands at all. The days were very long for a little tiny child who should have been romping and playing out of doors.

One day there came strange whispers about St. Valentine. You wondered if he were the man who came to trim the trees in the orchard. It was all very new to you, because everything was new, and you had so much to get acquainted with in a big strange world.

The other children talked knowingly about a St. Valentine's box. Next day they filed in one after another, and into a big wooden box on the right Beau.

Get a Hundred of the Meanest Burlesque Valentines I Can Find.

You probably did, as I was in there.

"Buying for some sister or niece?"

"No—for my wife."

"But you are over 50 years old and have been married a quarter of a century."

Carries Out State Orders.

The Kenosha city council has taken steps to carry out the recent order of the state Board of health department.

In regard to purging of the Kenosha river. The work to be done in Kenosha will be a matter of interest to all cities on the west side of the lake, as it has been claimed for years that the lake water has been polluted on account of the fifth poured into the lake from the Kenosha tanneries and gashouses.

The plan which is after the suggestion of State Health Officer Dr. C. A. Harper of Madison, will require years to carry out, and will demand the building of dissolving or septic tanks and an intercepting sewer, which in time will practically drain all parts of the ground for flushing the Kenosha river. It is planned to make this system similar to the one used in Milwaukee, and the engineer has made a careful study of the methods used in Milwaukee.

Tobacco Men to Gather.

Through the influence of the secretary of the Wisconsin Tobacco Growers' and Dealers' association and the state department of Furriers Institutes they will hold a two days' joint convention at Janesville February 25 and 26.

This convention will bring from 1,000 to 1,500 farmers and tobacco men to that city. George Wyke of Milwaukee, member of the board of directors of the State Agricultural society, will preside at the convention.

Other prominent tobacco men from this and other states will speak, and several of the professors from the agricultural school of the university will also give addresses.

Marshfield Cheese Axis.

Five years ago the total paid to farmers for milk and cream annually, within a radius of 20 miles of Marshfield, would have fallen far below the $1,000,000 mark. Now, from the best information obtainable, it will go close to $2,000,000. The question naturally arises, with the constant development of country and improvement of herds, what will it be five years from now?

Marshfield can no longer hide her importance as a dairy center, as most of the enormous sum mentioned above was paid by dealers in the past year.

Business in Winnebago County.

The expansion of business, commercial and industrial, in Winnebago county, shown by the new companies formed and by increases in capital stock, prove that the year 1907 was the record year in this country. The books in the office of the Winnebago county register of deeds show that during the year 1907 31 organizations, 65 articles of incorporation, with a total capitalization of $4,833,500, and that four other companies added to their capital stock to the extent of $1,025,000.

Bashford Gets $5,000.

Attorney General Gilbert rendered an opinion to the effect that Associate Justice R. M. Bashford is entitled to a salary of $5,000 a year during the remainder of the term for which Justice Cassoday was elected. The increased salary of $6,000, which the legislature several years ago fixed as the pay of members of the supreme court, applies only to members elected subsequent to the passage of such law.

The ruling of the attorney general was made in response to an inquiry by Secretary of State Frear.

Fiction Is the Favorite.

The Winnebago County Traveling Library commission has reorganized with the election of the following officers: President, former Mayor W. H. Hess of Neenah; vice-president, C. H. Larabee; supervising librarian, W. H. Ford, Oshkosh; assistant supervising librarian, Miss Maud Durin, Oshkosh.

The report of the supervising librarian for the year shows that there are 24 traveling libraries in commission in this county, while nine more are in reserve for exchange.

Owns Graded Cows.

Fond du Lac.—Thomas Fox, of Friendship, is the owner of a herd of 19 graded Holsteins whose milk for last year brought $1,525.00, an average of $80.26. Six of the number are here.

State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Need of State Parks.

The state park problem is attracting considerable attention at the present time. In commenting on this Hon. S. A. Cook of Neenah said: "Not a year passes in Wisconsin that does not witness the absorption by private individuals of large tracts of land for their fine water power or for their picturesqueness. Within ten years, if this process is kept up—as it is likely to be—we shall have no attractive places where a man may go to find recreation in camping or in fishing without securing permission from owners. The idea of the legislature in providing for a state park board was to have the state secure large tracts of land in picturesque portions of the state to be kept for all time for the use of the public—places where the seekers after health or rest could go and, without money and without price,"

It is understood that the engineers of the war department have been consulted, and that the bill to be introduced will have the approval of the war department. The parties interested are not disposed to discuss the matter until their plans are fully matured. Tentative plans have been drawn for a structure to cost approximately $250,000. These plans provide for a double-deck bridge, the upper deck for railroad trains and passengers, and the lower deck for street cars and teams.

It is believed that as soon as authority is given by congress for the building of the bridge the work of construction of the new steel plant will be pushed.

In this connection it is believed that the United States Steel corporation may expend considerably more on this plant than is generally supposed. It is said the expenditure will reach $12,000,000.

Fear in Tax Statement.

Secretary of State Frear issued a statement on the state tax levy and its relation to the county tax for 1906 and 1907 and sent copies of it to members of the legislature, county officers and other persons in different parts of the state. During the last few weeks he has received a large number of letters of inquiry respecting the state tax for 1907. The statement is accompanied by a letter giving the reason for its preparation and publication. The letter is as follows:

"The inclosed statement was prepared from the records in this department in response to inquiries received from other counties.

The subject is one of interest and importance to the general public, and you will observe that your name would be spoken. The other children were busy showing their white lace valentines, and never noticed the wistful little face in a fur-back seat.

It was all over. The box was empty.

The Beautiful Lady closed her desk.

The children ran for their hats and coats.

You placed two soiled lit little hands to two very moisty-misty eyes and felt your first great sorrow,

You didn't you? Well, if you didn't I did.

The heart of a child is so sensitive a flower. A thought will crush it—a tear will bruise it.

HIS ONE DAY TO GET EVEN.

Husband Sent Burlesque Valentines and Had His Wife Guessing.

"Say, old fellow," said Brown, as he laid his hand familiarly on Potter's shoulder, "didn't I see you in the stationer's a day or two ago looking at valentines?"

"You probably did, as I was in there," was the answer.

"Buying for some sister or niece?"

"No—for my wife."

CARRY OUT STATE ORDERS.

The Kenosha city council has taken steps to carry out the recent order of the state Board of health department in regard to purging of the Kenosha river.

The work to be done in Kenosha will be a matter of interest to all cities on the west side of the lake, as it has been claimed for years that the lake water has been polluted on account of the fifth poured into the lake from the Kenosha tanneries and gashouses.

The plan which is after the suggestion of State Health Officer Dr. C. A. Harper of Madison, will require years to carry out, and will demand the building of dissolving or septic tanks and an intercepting sewer, which in time will practically drain all parts of the ground for flushing the Kenosha river.

This convention will bring from 1,000 to 1,500 farmers and tobacco men to that city. George Wyke of Milwaukee, member of the board of directors of the State Agricultural society, will preside at the convention.

Other prominent tobacco men from this and other states will speak, and several of the professors from the agricultural school of the university will also give addresses.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE AMERICAN MISSIONARY

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

This Distinguished American Journalist is Traveling Around the World for the Purpose of Investigating the American Foreign Missionary from a Purely Disinterested, Secular and Non-Sectarian Standpoint. Illustrated with Drawings and from Photographs.

Mohammed's Forces Center in Cosmopolitan Cairo

Cairo, Egypt.—Japan, China, Korea and India have all got on the world's news cables since I wrote about them in this correspondence; the same will be true of Egypt, or I am no reader of plain signs. The unrest of Egypt is bound to assert itself ere long in ways that will command the attention of civilization. The loud mutterings, to be heard in the cafés and bazaars, are not the thoughtless vaporings of the idle; a very considerable proportion of the people, including the progressive, educated "Young Egypt" party, are thinking definite things concerning the overthrow of the English power. Lord Cromer's recent departure was made the occasion for so many outspoken criticisms against the British that it was preceded, as a precautionary measure, by the parade of all the British forces, fully armed, through the streets of Cairo.

Missions and Politics.

All this has a relation to the missionary propaganda. This upheaval and restlessness is cracking the hard surface of Mohammedan exclusiveness and intolerance. Where the newspaper and the world's spirit enter, there religious prejudice cannot abide. In their seemingly hopeless assault upon Islam, the missionaries have a powerful reinforcement in the flagrant rudeness of New Egypt.

On the other hand, the missionaries, by their schools and literature, have done more than a little to awaken Egypt from the torpor of centuries.

British officials and Egyptian reformers have alike definitely and publicly acknowledged the influential contribution to the country's higher welfare made by the American missionary.

Old Egypt, the land of the dead, is becoming one of the world's new nations, blessed with a prosperity at most equal to the amazing fertility of its soil.

The Sword of the Prophet.

Cairo is the citadel and cradle of Mohammedanism. Sanguine Christians predict that, as the magnificent Mohammedan Mosque, which overlooks the entire city, from the summit of the ancient citadel, is now surrounded by the soldiers of a Christian power, so the religion which it represents is bound to succeed in the advance of Christianity. Which is more easily said than done. This is a thoroughly Mohammedan city. The Christian may still hear himself cursed as an unbelieving dog, in the bazaar and in the mosques.

What has often been called the largest university in the world, the highest educational institution of Islam is situated here; and when I visited it the sibilant sound of serpentine hate followed me through all the vast inclosure. The books say that there are 10,000 students taking the 12-year course, in the El Azhar mosque, although the officials told me that the number is more than 40,000. This is now the fountain head of the force by which Mohammedanism has conquered 222,966,170 of the world's population.

The only reason that this force is no longer expressed by the sword, as formerly, is that the great world powers, which are Christians, prevent. Curiously enough, the Christian emperor of Great Britain and India rules over more Mohammedans than any other sovereign. In Egypt there are about 9,000,000 followers of Islam, 720,000 Copte Christians, and a small scattering of Jews and Protestants.

Sapping and Mining.

Like many other oriental missions, this one of the United Presbyterian church is working for the second and third generation. It plays a long, wide and far-reaching campaign. By many indirect methods, it is inculcating a more tolerant spirit in the community, and removing the ancient prejudice. It is educating the boys and girls, on a scale almost equal to that of the reformed government. A recent report showed 15,000 scholars in the schools of this American mission, and 18,000 in all government schools. There are more than 16,000 scholars in the mission schools, of whom about 3,000 are Mohammedans.

The ancient Coptic Christian church, now sadly corrupted, has persisted in Egypt despite all Muslim persecution. Among these the first work of the missionaries was done, and from them come the majority of the $639 members reported by the mission.

No further effort will be made in behalf of the defendants. They at once began their term of sentence. All the men are of prominent Toledo families.

Where the Holy Family Rested.

The Coptic quarter of old Cairo does not speak well for the thrift and progressiveness of the Coptic. My drayman gave them a bad reputation for morality. The old church, dating back to the fifteenth century, which covers the crypt where Joseph and Mary rested with the babe in their flight into Egypt, is in sorry disrepair. The priest and his family, who show tourists about, are as shameless beggars as any Arab, and quite as arrogant. The priest soberly gave me, as the names of apostles whose pictures are on the wall, a melody of New Testament characters, some of whom no church ever called apostles. The association of the old church building with the holy family renders it one of the chief points of interest in this interesting city.

It is at Cairo that the west touches the east; here most travelers get their first sight of foreign mission work. The old American mission building is directly across the street from the principal hotel, and here reside veteran missionaries who have been in the work for nearly half a century, as well as a fine corps of younger workers. Here is a church, a book store, and schools for both girls and boys.

By the Nile the mission has even greater work. Assuit college enrolls 200 students, and the hospitals at Assuit and Tanta minister respectively to 2,000 and to 200 in-patients annually, and to 20,000 and 10,000 dispensary patients. The praise of this mission's work is in the mouths of natives, travelers and government officials.

Women More Honest Than Men.

Statistics compiled by American guaranteed companies show that, as regards honesty, women are superior to men. Women in America are employed in business as extensively as men, and yet the record shows that almost every embezzler and defaulter was a man. There are more women cashiers than men. The universal stores and shops of almost every kind—employ women to handle their receipts and to give change; yet there were a hundred cases of men cashiers

IN GRIP OF STORM

SNOW, SLEET AND BLIZZARDS THROUGHOUT COUNTRY.

CHICAGO IS CLAD IN ICE

Coldest Day of Winter in New York
Transportation Seriously Hampered in Many States.

Chicago.—A blizzard which turned to rain Wednesday seriously affected telegraphic communication between Chicago and many outside cities, especially in the west. St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City were entirely cut off from the east during the early hours by a storm which surrounded St. Louis and extended to Iowa. In Chicago the storm affected much of the transportation in rush hour. Electric railroads were the principal sufferers.

Several Deaths in New York.
New York.—After having dropped to a low record for the season, the temperature late Wednesday lifted just enough to permit of a snowstorm of considerable proportions. When the day broke the mercury was but one degree above zero—seven points short of the coldest weather ever recorded here. The charitable societies found much to do in the way of alms-giving. The police reported several deaths from exposure.

A Fat Man's Misery.

Thus, at the entrance to the mosque which is a duplicate of the Mecca mosque, there stand two marble pillars. The belief is that whoever can squeeze between these two pillars is free from evil and sure of paradise.

But the person in whose heart evil resides can in no wise get through.

Physical form is not taken into account.

Our driver was terribly concerned because he could not squeeze through, even after removing various garments.

After much effort, and at the risk of ribs we pulled and pushed him through, and he was straightway as happy as a peasant girl after her confirmation.

No "Holy War."

Frequently the alarm is sounded that a pan-Islamic movement threatens Europe or Asia, and that the green flag of a "holy war" is to be unfurled. Undoubtedly the leaders of Islam are solidifying their forces as thoroughly as possible; and undoubtedly Mohammedanism is the most serious foe to be met by the Christian missionaries. The report, however, that Islam is growing rapidly, and carrying on an aggressive missionary campaign, cannot be verified here. Leading students of Mohammedanism say that they can find no evidence of such a movement. It is as unfounded a report as the rumors of a "holy war." With the present admixture of races and governments and civilizations, it seems the height of imprudence that there should ever be a "holy war." The prophet is fighting against the calendar.

Deep Snow in Minnesota.

Winona, Minn.—After 30 hours of continuous snowfall in southern Minnesota, eight inches of snow covers the ground. The temperature is falling and a high wind is blowing. All trains are late, and country roads are almost impassable.

South Bend, Ind.—The worst

snow storm in 15 years prevailed here

Wednesday. Interurban railway travel between South Bend, Niles, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor was practically suspended.

ICE DEALERS SENT TO JAIL.

Three Prominent Toledo Men Given Six Months.

Toledo, O.—Roland Beard and Compton Leaman of the Hygeia Ice Company and Joseph Miller, manager of the Toledo Ice and Coal Company, were Tuesday sentenced to six months in the county jail and to pay costs of prosecution by Judge Kinkade for conspiracy in restraint of trade.

A recent report showed 15,000 scholars in the schools of this American mission, and 18,000 in all government schools. There are more than 16,000 scholars in the mission schools, of whom about 3,000 are Mohammedans.

The ancient Coptic Christian church, now sadly corrupted, has persisted in Egypt despite all Muslim persecution. Among these the first work of the missionaries was done, and from them come the majority of the $639 members reported by the mission.

No further effort will be made in behalf of the defendants. They at once began their term of sentence. All the men are of prominent Toledo families.

Former Baseball Magnate Bankrupt.

St. Louis.—A petition in voluntary bankruptcy was filed Monday by Chris Von Der Ah, for many years a principal figure in the baseball world and owner of the St. Louis American association team from its organization in 1876 until his retirement in 1893.

These men were found guilty last July and at that time Judge Klinckade sentenced each of them to six months in the workhouse and to pay $2,500 fine. The case was appealed and a few days ago the supreme court handed down a decision declaring the convicted men could be sent to jail, but not to the workhouse. They were remanded to the common pleas court for resentence and while the fine was not assessed the workhouse sentence was changed to the county jail.

No further effort will be made in behalf of the defendants. They at once began their term of sentence. All the men are of prominent Toledo families.

Captain of Bartonville Asylum Killed After Trouble with Crew.

Inmate of Bartonville Asylum Falls from Cottage Roof.

Peoria, Ill.—On the very eve of the investigation of the Bartonville asylum for the insane in this city, a paroled prisoner, John Hordius, at an early morning walked out on the roof of a porch of the cottage in which he was confined, slipped on the ice and fell 18 feet to the ground, where he was found dead by a watchman.

Riduan had been insane for 27 years and was brought to Peoria four years ago from Kankakee and immediately classed as one of the quiet and docile kind. His sleeping quarters were in a cottage over which there were no extra precautions taken to prevent the escape of the patients.

These men were found guilty last July and at that time Judge Klinckade sentenced each of them to six months in the workhouse and to pay $2,500 fine. The case was appealed and a few days ago the supreme court handed down a decision declaring the convicted men could be sent to jail, but not to the workhouse. (From the Times.)

There will be three interesting A.
S. E. meetings held in this vicinity next week when J. H. Germann, of Black River Falls, assistant state organizer, will be the principal speaker. The first meeting will be held in the Norwegian church in Armenia, Monday evening, February 10th, at eight o'clock. The second meeting will be held in the town hall in the town of Port Edwards Tuesday afternoon, February 11, at two o'clock, and it is intended that this shall be a joint meeting of the Stratford, Port Edwards and Armenia unions. At this meeting the question of building a potato warehouse at Neekoosa will be discussed and many other important matters will be brought over. The third meeting will be held in Stratford Wednesday evening, February 12.

The log dwelling house on A. H.
Kleber's farm was totally destroyed by fire last Tuesday, the fire being discovered at about eleven o'clock by men working on the place. The house had gained such headway that there was scarcely time to save the furniture and part of the kitchen cutlery. The bed and clothing upstairs could not be saved and everything in those rooms was lost.

Sigfred Kee, of this city, is now the owner of the Port Edwards cemetery, located about four and one half miles southwest of town, having bought the property at public auction last Monday. Mr. Kee intends to move the plant to Neekoosa where he will place a competent butter maker in charge and expects to be ready to begin operations early in spring.

Last Saturday morning Rev. Jas.
Baldwin united in holy bonds of matrimony Mr. Fred Wippl and Miss Eloise Blackburn, the ceremony taking place at the pastor's residence.

Mr. Anton Wippl appearing as best man and Miss Josephine Arnold as Affalfa for Dairy Cows.

D. H. Otis, professor of animal nutrition at the college of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, has just completed a special study of the value of alfalfa as a feed for dairy cows. An experiment which he conducted showed that young cows not giving milk can be kept in good condition during the winter and eat from 1.25 to 1.5 pounds per day when fed nothing but alfalfa hay.

"In composition alfalfa is nearly if not quite, equal to bran, pound for pound," says Professor Otis, discussing its nutritive value. "The excellent feeding value of alfalfa lies in its high content of digestible protein.
With an average yield of four tons, alfalfa will produce 880 pounds of digestible protein per acre. If this amount of protein is supplied to each cow, which is usually purchased for its protein content, it would require 1.5 tons, which would cost at present $52.50.

"A summary of feeding trials with dairy cows shows that alfalfa can be made to take the place of at least one-half of the grain usually fed our dairy cows, and as the nutrients needed by dairy cows can be produced much more cheaply with alfalfa than with grain, the cost of producing milk may be greatly reduced by its use."

"The cash returns from feeding
this crop at various experiments stations range from $10 to $20 per ton. With four tons per acre, these figures show excellent returns from the land devoted to alfalfa. A conservative estimate would indicate that the Wisconsin dairy farmer can increase his profits from 50 to 75 per cent by a liberal, but judicious, use of alfalfa grown upon his own farm."

HIS LETTER OF SYMPATHY

JUDGE HARGIS SLAIN

NOTORIOUS KENTUCKY FEUDIST KILLED BY HIS SON.

SHOT AFTER A QUARREL

Victim Long Prominent in Politics and Had Been Accused of Complicity
in Many Murders.

Jackson, Ky.—Former County Judge James Hargis, for many years member of the state Democratic executive committee, accused of complicity in many murders and a prominent figure in the feuds which have disrupted Breathitt county for several years, was shot and instantly killed in his general store here about 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon by his son, Beach Hargis.

The son fired five shots in rapid succession at his father, who fell dead while his clerks were waiting on customers.

The exact cause of the murder has not been learned, but it is supposed to have been the result of differences which have existed between father and son for some time. The two men are reported to have had a severe quarrel several months ago, when the father, it is alleged, was compelled to resort to violence to restrain his son.

Young Hargis, it is said, has been drinking heavily of late. He came into the store late in the afternoon and was apparently under the influence of liquor. Judge Hargis, it is said, spoke to his son about his drinking and a quarrel resulted. Father and son stepped behind a counter in the store, when the son, after only a few minutes' conversation, drew a revolver and fired five shots. Four took effect, the noted mountain character falling dead. The young woman stenographer and the customers in the store rushed for the doors and fled in fright.

Young Hargis was arrested by the town marshal and Grover Blanton and placed in jail. He was raving like a maniac and the officers were compelled to drap him to jail.

Judge Hargis had been for years a prominent figure in Kentucky in political and criminal circles. He had figured in the courts in the mountains for years on account of the murders of Dr. Cox, Attorney Marcus and James Cockrell.

AUDIT SYSTEM IS EJECTED.

President Orders It Dusted From Public Printing Office.

Washington.—Concurring in the recommendation of acting Public Printer Rosser, the president Thursday canceled the contract of the government with the Audit System and ordered its ejection from the government printing office at the end of six days.

The Audit System is the corporate name of the cost-estimating method which was installed more than a year ago by Public Printer Stillings. Under its operation the government has paid about $120,000 for the privilege of calculating the cost of government printing and binding.

CAID MACLEAN RELEASED.

He Is Finally Set Free by the Bandit Raisuli.

Tangler—Caid Sir Harry MacLean, commander of the sultan's bodyguard and next to the sultan the most influential man in Morocco, has arrived here under an escort from the Bandit Raisuli, who has held him under bondage for the past seven months.

He was brought here in accordance with the agreement which the British government finally succeeded in making with Raisuli for his release, in return for which Great Britain will pay $100,000 to Raisuli and guarantee him protection and immunity from arrest.

CABLES MORSE TO RETURN.

Counsel for Financier Sends Message to Liverpool.

New York.—At the request of United States District Attorney Sumner Abbott B. Boardman, counsel for Charles W. Morse, into Thursday cabled his client at Liverpool asking that Morse return to this city. Mr. Boardman believes that the banker will take passage on the first steamer sailing west after the arrival at Queenstown or Liverpool of the Cunard line steamship Campania, upon which his attorney says, Morse sailed from here last Saturday.

Sorrowing Widow Had to Have Picture by Which to Remember Hubby.

To be exhumed after he had been buried for 20 days and told to sit up and look pleasant was the tough luck that befell a corpse out at Woodlawn cemetery, New York, the other day. Henry Brown, a train dispatcher on the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street elevated road, died December 6 of rheumatic goat and was buried directly and in order. Some two weeks after the funeral it occurred to Mrs. Brown that she would like a photograph of her husband, having none that did him justice. Immediately she petitioned the Bronx health department for permission to exhume Henry and snapshot him. The health department was somewhat dazed, but granted the request, and set with a photographer and an undertaker, Mrs. Brown went to Woodlawn and had the three-weeks' corpse dug up. Brown was taken both profile and full face.

POOR JOHN!

Laundry work at home would be much more satisfactory if the right starch were used. In order to get the desired stiffness, it is usually necessary to use so much starch that the beauty and fineness of the fabric is hidden behind a paste of varying thickness, which not only destroys the wearing quality of the goods, but also affects the wearing strength of the goods. This trouble can be entirely overcome by using Defiance Starch, as it can be applied much more thinly because of its greater strength than other starches.

Midshipmen and Marriage.

Midshipmen and marriage are interesting the navy department at present considerably. In the last three years more than one midshipman has been dismissed from the service for marrying before he has been graduated from Annapolis. Also there have been increasingly numerous requests to the navy department from passed midshipmen asking permission to marry. The department has been far lenient with Cupid and has granted most of these requests.

Cranberry Notes

Cranberries Well Handled.

The new system of settling cranberries through large agencies seems to be working out well this year under very difficult conditions. The time when the cranberry market is usually busiest happened to be right in the time of the financial panic. The market was very bad for some weeks and it looked as if the selling agencies would make some poor returns; yet according to Manuson Chauncy of the National Fruit Exchange none of the co-operative berries were sold lower than $1 for Cape Cod berries at the shipping station. New Jersey stock sold at $5.50 at one time. At present the rest of the crop is being cleared out at $5 to $8.50 for the best Cape Cod fruit. It looks as if the Exchange had done better than a great many of the private shippers.—American Cultivator.

Eastern Cranberry Men.

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the American Cranberry Growers' Association was held at the Philadelphia Bourse on Tuesday, Jan. 28. The meeting was the most largely attended and most interesting of any that have preceded it.

The session began at 10 o'clock and continued till 3 o'clock without intermission.

"The Labor Problem" was discussed by Prof. Rockwood of Princeton, N. J.; "Insect Enemies" by Henry J. Thuyer of Boston and Prof. John Smith, entomologist of the New Jersey Experiment Station; "Spraying" by Prosecutor Abbott of Atlantic County, N. J.

Prof. Blake of the New Jersey Experiment Station gave a history of and demonstrated how to make the Bordeau mixture; also how not to make it.

"Spraying Appliances" was treated by Ezra Evans and Prof. Shear of the Department of Agriculture, Washington. The former with reference to mechanical power and field apparatus, the latter as to the charactor and mechanical construction of the spray nozzle, necessary to do efficient work.

"Varietys" was discussed by A. D. Makepeace and A. U. Chaney; "Co-operative Marketing" was handled by J. J. White, president of the Growers' Cranberry Co., and F. S. Gaekel, president of the New-Jersey Cranberry Sales Co. The question of the brand and who was back of it, was the principal point in the discussion. Mr. White stood for the individual grower and Mr. Gaekel for the inspector.

The president's address was received with practical suggestions and was listened to with close attention.

The proceedings of the meeting will be printed in full and sent to all members of the association.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—Rev. E. H. Dorell, Woodbury, N. J.

Vice-president—Judge B. P. Willis, Mt. Holly, N. J.

Secretary and Treasurer—A. J. Rider, Hammonston, N. J.

Executive Committee—Theo. Budd, J. J. White, E. H. Dorell and A. J. Rider.

Wants Information.

A subscriber to the Tribune who is engaged in the cranberry business writes as follows:

"In your issue of February 5th you spoke of two parties from Berlin shipping of soft cranberries from Grammoor. I suppose they are the only after milline. I have quite a few on hand and if there is any market for them I wish you would please put me on. Sold such stock two and three years ago for elder but party is now out of business."

If any reader of the Tribune knows where such stock can be disposed of and will forward the information to us we will be pleased to pass it along to the party seeking the information.
